Sneak Peek: Lost Prop Auction

by Rob Moynihan July 22, 2009 09:19 AM EST

Even though the Island is disappearing for good in May 2010, fans will get the chance to take a piece of Lost mythology home.

Hollywood memorabilia auctioneer Profiles in History will preview selected items for the auction at this year's Comic-Con. Selected props and costumes will be on display from July 23-26, including Kate's toy plane, Hurley's winning lottery ticket, Locke's hunting knife, Sawyer's letter, Charlie's guitar, and other items from the first five seasons. The auction will take place after the series finale in May.
